

50 Slain By Terrific Blast In Big Hotel In Jerusalem

By CARTER DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, July 22 (AP)—Terrorists bombed and shattered part of the huge King David hotel, headquarters of the British army and the secretariat of the Palestine government, today, killing at least 50 persons in a terrifying blast that shook the modern part of this ancient city.

The attack came 23 days after the British army occupied the Jewish agency and arrested 2,000 Jews and leaders. A police communiqué gave the estimate of dead. Among the 60 reported unofficially as injured was an American. Correspondent Richard Mowrer of the New York Post, who was reported to have suffered a broken leg while walking past the hotel.

A curfew was clamped on. Pedestrians and traffic vanished from streets in Jewish quarters of Jerusalem. Tight cordon barred access to the King David hotel, one of the finest in eastern Mediterranean countries, while soldiers dug into the rubble for more bodies and for wounded.

Troops On the Move
Postmaster General G. D. Kennedy, a veteran of 25 years of government service in Palestine, was known to have been killed.

The explosion was likened by a British army officer to the detonation of a 500 pound bomb. It shattered the uneasy calm of Jerusalem, torn by Jewish demands for more immigration and Arab opposition, st 12:30 p.m.

The curfew was imposed soon afterwards while flames were licking parts of the wreckage of the right wing of the hotel. Pedestrians were permitted to move in certain areas, but no traffic was allowed on the streets except vehicles of troops and police.

Hundreds of truckloads of troops and Bren carriers moved through the city.

Two Bombs Explode

A military officer, who saw the attack, said a small bomb first exploded a block from the hotel, breaking windows. This was evidently a diversion.

Seconds later, a burst from a tommygun ripped out windows of the secretariat. A few minutes later, a tremendous explosion blew the corner of the hotel—largest in Palestine—into rubble.

"I saw dead men lying on the streets," one eyewitness said. "There were several ATS (British Army Women's Auxiliary) girls covered with blood from head to foot. One man was blown clear across the street and his body hit the side of the YMCA building."

The YMCA building, approximately 100 yards from the hotel, was blotted with a bloodstain one foot wide, but apparently was undamaged.

Anonymous Call

The telephone operator at the hotel said that 15 minutes before the explosion, she received an anonymous call saying the hotel was to be blown up. She was advised to flee.

Instead, she spread the alarm and many guests ran from the building. Others, accustomed to alarms, remained. As word of the mysterious call spread, air raid sirens atop the hotel sounded and others throughout the city took up the eerie howl.

Five assassins were said by eye-witnesses to have planted the explosive after shooting at a British officer, storming the hotel grounds and herding its employees against the walls.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN ON SUNDAY

A barn owned by Guy Tanger, York Springs R. 2, located about one mile south of York Springs, was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock after lightning struck the frame building. No estimate was available of the amount of damage.

A passing motorist who heard the crash of the thunder following the bolt, stopped and saw that the barn had been hit. He called to Russell Saum, tenant on the Tanger farm, who lives immediately beside the barn and they removed a cow and most of the equipment from the barn, which was filled with hay.

The flames, however, spread so rapidly that a mower and a corn planter could not be removed and were destroyed along with the barn and hay.

Firemen Save Home

By the time the York Springs fire company arrived, a few minutes later, the blaze was out of control and the company poured water from booster tanks on the tenant house in order to keep it from catching fire. Water was carried by buckets from the well to the booster tanks on the fire truck to provide the stream of water played on the house.

Within an hour the barn was burned. Some firemen stayed for hours after the fire to prevent an outbreak in the smouldering hay.

The tenants moved there within the past several weeks.

13 Arrested By Local Police For Disorderly Conduct; All Are "Out Of Town" Residents

Thirteen arrests were made by borough police Saturday night and early Sunday morning in the police war against recurrent outbursts of drunkenness and street disturbances here over recent weeks. The entire police force was on duty, with several of the members working overtime hours.

Streets were patrolled both on foot and by automobile, beginning at an early hour Saturday night, with the police determined to put an end to the Saturday night disturbances, all of them this week-end caused by out-of-town residents.

One disturbance invaded the privacy of a home, according to police. E. J. McKee, 50, Pittsburgh, and Harry M. LaBain, 70, Cannonsburg, near Pittsburgh, were charged with disorderly conduct before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder after an alteration alleged to have taken place on the front veranda of the home of Miss Mary Rummel, 204 Carlisle street, "The Blythe House," at 2:35 a.m., Sunday, during which porch furniture was tossed around and LaBain pushed McKee off the porch into the shrubbery, according to police.

Bail Is Forfeited

McKee and LaBain were arrested on Carlisle street and taken first to jail, and later posted bail of $10 and costs each before Squire Snyder, which they forfeited when they failed to appear for a hearing this morning.

Robert Walker, 23, Gettysburg R. 2, arrested at 10:50 p.m., Saturday night on Center Square on a disorderly conduct charge with Bruce J. Wilson, 21, Gettysburg R. 3, paid a $2 fine and costs following a hearing today. Wilson, arrested on the same charge, forfeited $10 bail and costs.

Robert Shultz, 19, Orrtanna, Nelson Shultz, 25, Cashtown, and Melvin Chapman, 18, Orrtanna, were arrested on disorderly conduct charges at 2 a.m., Sunday on Chambersburg street. Robert Shultz is in jail awaiting a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehor, the latter said. Chapman and Nelson Shultz posted $15 bail for a hearing before Squire Basehor to-night.

Other Arrests

J. G. Slaybaugh, 57, Orrtanna, was arrested at 8:45 p.m., Saturday night at Chambersburg and North Washington streets on a disorderly conduct charge. He forfeited $10 bail and costs to Squire Snyder to-day.

Ellis J. Kepner, 36, Paul McCleaff, 24, and Charles Welkert, 34, all of Fairfield, were arrested at 10:15 p.m. Saturday night on disorderly person charges on Chambersburg street, in front of the James Gettys hotel, police said. Kepner paid a fine of $2 and costs and was released. McCleaff and Welkert posted $15 bail for a hearing tonight before Squire Basehor to-day.

Directs Traffic

Bertan Yeko, 59, address, was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge at 7 p.m. Saturday night at the North Washington street, railroad crossing, where police said he was attempting to direct traffic. He also posted $15 bail for a hearing tonight before Squire Basehor.

John Devitt, 58, arrested at 7 p.m. Sunday on vagrancy charge, is in jail awaiting a hearing.

C. W. Epley, Jr., To Marry On August 24

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Keller, Culver, Ind., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jeanne, to Clarence W. Epley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Epley, Chambersburg street. The wedding will take place August 24 in the Memorial Library of Culver Military Academy of which Mr. Epley is a graduate.

Mr. Epley was the youngest Adams countian to be commissioned in the U.S. Army. His commission was awaiting him when he attained his 18th birthday. He has served five years in the recent war most of which was spent overseas where he was wounded.

TWO INJURED IN WEEK-END AUTO MISHAPS

State police from the local substation investigated three accidents over the week-end, the largest number of crashes on any week-end period for well over a month.

Two persons were injured in a crash Sunday morning at 12:10 o'clock when cars driven by Edward R. Sneeringer, 21, McSherrystown, and Edward C. Lawrence, 18, New Oxford R. 1, collided two miles north of Hanover on the Cross Keys road.

Sneeringer suffered a laceration of the forehead and nose and an occupant of his car, Helen Kimple, Hanover, suffered a laceration of the face. Both were treated by Dr. N. H. Seitz, Hanover.

State police said both Sneeringer and Lawrence were proceeding north on the highway at the time of the crash. Lawrence, police said, slowed down, and Sneeringer, who was following, crashed into the rear of the Lawrence vehicle. Total damage was $350. A charge of following too closely has been laid by state police against Sneeringer before Justice of the Peace Harry Brinton, Berwick township. A ten day notice is being sent.

Saturday at 5:30 p.m. state police investigated an accident four miles north of Gettysburg on the Mummasburg road. C. C. Fritz, 65, Gettysburg R. 3, according to police, drove out from a service station and crashed into a truck driven by John E. Stobson, 30, Bartow, R. 2, Fla., which was proceeding north on the highway. Damage to Fritz' sedan was $35. There was no damage to the truck. Fritz will be charged before Justice of the Peace William Dentler, Cashtown, with failure to yield the right of way.

Two cars crashed at the stop light intersection in East Berlin Saturday evening at 6 o'clock.

According to state police, G. C. Leathery, East Berlin R. 1, pulled up to the intersection going east, and was planning to make a left turn. When he saw the car of William D. Behler, Seven Valleys, approaching from the east Leathery decided to stop.

Cyclist Stricken

Behler, according to police, thought that Leathery was going to pass him and cut over to his right.

Total damage was $30. Both had the green light at the intersection. No charges were laid.

Saturday night the policemen began an investigation into what was thought at the time to be a hit-and-run accident.

The officers were called about 10:30 o'clock to near Zora where they were told a man was lying on the berm of the road unconscious.

They went to the scene and found

PAY TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

More than 150 members of the Washington, D. C., Educational Touring club took part Sunday afternoon in services in tribute to Abraham Lincoln and Gen. Oliver Otis Howard at the National Cemetery and park here.

The program opened at the National monument where George H. Wallace, president of the club, spoke on "Why Lincoln Spoke at Gettysburg." Alvin C. Baker, superintendent of the National cemetery here, welcomed the group, while Dr. Frederick Tilberg, historian of the National park office, spoke on the history of the cemetery and monument.

Reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, placing a wreath on the monument and an address, "The Constitution and Slavery," by Nathaniel H. Huff, Washington, winner of the Elks' oratorical contest for Region Two, concluded the activities at the cemetery.

The group then proceeded to the Howard monument near the cemetery where a wreath was placed on the monument and tribute paid the general as founder of Howard university and a benefactor to the nation.

Mrs. Helen Newberry, historian for the club, acted as mistress of ceremonies. Following the services the group toured the battlefield.

U.N. Delegate

Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, 45 (below), Democratic member of Congress from Los Angeles, opera singer, stage star, mother of two and wife of actor Melvyn Douglas, took on a new job when Pres. Truman announced he had appointed her to the United Nations Assembly. She will be an alternate on the U.S. delegation and will not vote in the coming September meeting.

Veterans of Foreign Wars officials and heads of the American Veterans Committee, who according to a Philadelphia newspaper Sunday are "upset" about the alleged caste system being practiced in National cemeteries, will find plenty of room available for enlisted men in the Gettysburg National cemetery, Dr. J. Water Coleman, park superintendent, said today.

They will also find, he added, that the caste system of burials by which officers are placed in separate areas did not come into effect here until after the War Department took over the cemetery after the civil war.

The problem arose in regard to the National Cemetery at Philadelphia when investigation disclosed that 18 vacant burial plots there are available for enlisted men while 130 are available in plots set aside for officers.

Gettysburg's national cemetery was mentioned in the Philadelphia story, but the article contained several errors, according to the local park office. The Philadelphia paper said that "The National Cemetery at Gettysburg, under the Department of Interior, is restricted to the burial of Civil War veterans. There are 3,604 veterans of that war buried in the 2,400 acre memorial park."

The Philadelphia VFW was described as "fighting mad" about the "caste" system in the national cemeteries and the lack of cemetery space.

According to Dr. Coleman and Alvin Baker, cemetery superintendent here, there are 2,412 graves available in the local National cemetery for veterans who wish to be buried here—and they can be veterans of any war. Already a number of World War II veterans have been interred in the Gettysburg National cemetery and veterans from other wars also are buried there.

16 Cemetery Acres

There are only 16 acres in the cemetery but there is room for 2,332 men and 20 officers. Since only 24 officers have been buried here since the cemetery was turned over to the War Department about 80 years ago it was not expected that the officer section will be filled in the near future, a park office spokesman said.

Erie Takes Two From Cataract Team

(By The Associated Press)

Erie rebounded from three defeats at the hands of Youngstown to pummel Niagara Falls in both ends of a middle Atlantic league double-header yesterday at Niagara Falls. The sailors took the opener, 1 to 0, and the nightcap, 3 to 1.

Youngstown, continuing its fine play of recent days, whipped Johnstown, 8 to 6 at Johnstown, as Charley Dolehale chalked up his 10th pitching win of the year.

The Oil City-Butler game was postponed because of rain.

MAYS SETS NEW MARK FOR MILE

Langhorne, Pa., July 22 (AP)—Two auto car racers from California, taking advantage of the breaks, won first prize money and glory in the 20-mile feature at Langhorne speedway yesterday.

George Robson, the Maywood, Calif., driver who won the Indianapolis memorial day 500-miler, wheeled in at the head of the field to win the main event.

But to Rex Mays, who calls Long Beach, Calif., home, went the glory. He shattered the one-mile world dirt track record, blazing the distance in 34.66 seconds (approximately 103 miles per hour). The old mark was 34.81 seconds made by the late Tony Wilburn in 1942.

Average 94 Miles

Johnnie Shaflekoff, Dayton, O., trailed Robson in second; Bill Holland of Bridgeport, Conn., was third; Hand Rogers, Trenton, N. J., fourth, and Tommy Hinershitz, Reading, Pa., fifth.

Robson's average speed was 94 miles an hour.

The feature was a disappointment to Mays. His car failed to function properly and he was never a contender after the first mile.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 22 (AP)—One reason why 1946 baseball is not so hot, according to Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy, International league boss (who thinks it isn't) is that most of the players don't know how to hit curve ball... Of course, he might add that lots of pitchers don't know how to throw them, either... Shag's point is: "They swing at a curve just like any other pitch and the only time they connect is when one fails to break. In the old days we used to follow the ball and we could hit curves just as well as fast balls..." Shag also attributes the Dodgers' downfall to too many rookies.

"The youngsters—first year players—are liable to let you down," he maintains. "The old timers stand up when the going gets tough..." Needless to say, Shaughnessy can be classed as an old timer.

MONDAY MATINEE

John Mastrangelo, Notre Dame's star guard of last fall, is spending the summer working as window washer in a foundry in his home town of Vandergrift, Pa. He won't have any excuse if he doesn't play clean next season. Has anyone been mean enough to point out the connection between John B. Kelly, president of the new Atlantic City race track, and boat races? John, you remember, was a celebrated oarsman and so is his son, Jack...

Gene Berce, who as a Marquette freshman basketballer in 1945 scored 62 points against Great Lakes and Notre Dame, has left Cornell with the end of the Navy program there and is returning to Marquette.

Chicago set a new paid attendance record at Wright field with turnout of 45,615 but the Cubs could do no better than split with the Phillies.

Hank Borowy finally cast off his miseries and worked a complete game, the first since May 5, in the 3-0 opener. Ken Raffensberger handed Claude Passeau his fifth straight setback in the 4-2 second tilt, with the help of Del Ennis's home run.

After Ewell Blackwell had whitewashed New York with five hits, 5-0, in the curtain raiser, the Cincinnati Reds succumbed to the slants of long Johnny Gee by a 2-1 count.

WILLIAMS ADDS 11 POINTS AS SOX TAKE TWO

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Thumping Ted Williams is baseball's man of the hour—almost certain to be named most valuable player in the American league if the Red Sox cop the big prize.

Adding 11 points to his batting average with one afternoon's effort on seven hits in nine times at bat, the sharp-eyed slugger is tops in batting at .365 and ranks first in runs scored, runs batted in, total hits and home runs. It's a good thing he never took up base stealing.

Williams hit for the cycle in yesterday's second game triumph over St. Louis, 7-4, topping a single, double and triple with his 27th home run, a 400-foot drive well into the right field stands at Fenway park.

A double and a brace of singles by Williams drove in one of the runs Dave Ferriss needed to record his 15th victory of the season, by a 5-0 score.

Not Good For Yanks

Now 11½ games out front with 64 to play, the Sox appear a certain bet to earn the pennant if they manage a .500 pace. To match that leisurely pace that would result in 97 wins, the second place Yankees would have to cop 44 of their remaining 65 contests—not an encouraging prospect.

Just when the Yankees were beginning to make some menacing gestures with five straight victories five-inning pitching jobs, they collapsed under an eight-run inning engineered by the Chicago White Sox in the second game, 9-3. Floyd Bevens had hurried and batted the home club to a 3-2 opening nod.

Detroit blew a chance to pick up ground on New York by losing to the Philadelphia A's 4-3 in the first. The world champs got even in the nightcap, winning 11-7.

Washington edged out Cleveland twice, 2-1 and 7-5, although the tribe rushed Bobby Feller to the rescue in the finale.

St. Louis and Brooklyn continued to run neck and neck in the National, winding up respective home stands and road trips all even with 53-34 records. The Dodgers headed home to resume operations with Chicago and the Cardinals headed for the Polo grounds to meet the Giants Tuesday. There are no games in either league today.

Record Attendance

Howie Pollet threw a four-hitter at the Boston Braves in the first game but needed Stan Musial's two-run homer to defeat Johnny Nigglings, 2-1; Erv Dusak's circuit clout with two on easied Harry Brecheen's task in the 8-4 second tilt triumph over the ex-Card Mort Cooper.

Vic Lombardi and Hank Behrman recorded 3-0 and 6-5 wins over Pittsburgh as the Dodgers continued to show encouraging signs of snapping out of their slump.

Chicago set a new paid attendance record at Wright field with turnout of 45,615 but the Cubs could do no better than split with the Phillies.

Hank Borowy finally cast off his miseries and worked a complete game, the first since May 5, in the 3-0 opener. Ken Raffensberger handed Claude Passeau his fifth straight setback in the 4-2 second tilt, with the help of Del Ennis's home run.

Victory Open Goes To Byron Nelson

Chicago, July 22 (AP)—Byron Nelson won the $10,000 Chicago Victory National Open tournament for the second straight time with a five-under-par 279 for 72 holes, two strokes better than runner-up Harold (Jug) McSpaden. Chandler Harper finished third with 282.

Frank Parker Wins Singles Championship

New York, July 22 (AP)—Frank Parker of Los Angeles won the Eastern Clay Courts Singles championship for the third time in seven years, defeating Gardner Nulty, of Miami, Fla., in the finals, 6-2, 7-6.

WINS SWIMMING TITLE

Clementon, N. J., July 22 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Florence Schmidt, performing for the Women's Swimming Club of New York, won the Women's Senior National AAU Long Distance title, splashing three miles over Clementon lake in one hour, 18 minutes and 44½ seconds, just half a second ahead of defending titlist Betty Lachok, representing the Akron, Ohio, Firestone club. The Akron club salvaged team honors, however, since its swimmers took second, third, fourth and fifth places.

Pittsburgh, July 22 (AP)—Herman Steinher of Los Angeles won the U.S. Chess Federation National Open championship for a second time Saturday with a 16-move victory over Harry Fajans, of New York. Herbert Seidman, of Brooklyn, was second, and Abraham Kupchik, of New York, third.

Entries in the tournament—biggest of the American season—are the survivors of a record field of 3,586 who teed off in the sectional eliminations. They will battle for six days over the Wellshire fairways, with one round of match play Wednesday, two Thursday and two Friday, leading up to Saturday's 36-hole bout for the coveted trophy.

The tournament is limited to the poor man golfers who play on the public links and usually is won by an unknown.

LEO PICKS CUBS AS 'TOUGH' TEAM

Pittsburgh, July 22 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals may think they can overhaul the Brooklyn Dodgers in a National league stretch finish, but Bums' manager, Leo Durocher, says they're not the least bit disturbing to him.

"See that team beating the Phillies," said "the Lip" pointing a finger at the Chicago-Philadelphia results on the scoreboard in Forbes Field yesterday. "That's the team we'll have to lick for the pennant, and not the Cards. It's the Cards, and brother they're much tougher."

Took Four Straight

Charlie Grimm's Cubs recently slammed the Dodgers in four straight games, although Leo, in typical Flatbush fashion, declares, "We had 'em licked in three of the games."

Leo, who returned to the Dodger bench after a five-day suspension to watch the Bums defeat the sagging Pittsburgh Pirates in both ends of a double-header yesterday, turned back to the Cards and wanted to know "why all this sudden rush to support them, anyway?"

Where were they the first two and a half months of the race?" he snapped at a news conference. "We had to lose eight out of nine games before you heard of them?"

Not Out Yet

"Nope, I don't think much of the Cards," he said, adding:

"I see some of the sportswriters have us dropped out of the pennant race completely. Sure, we've been doing bad but we're still even with those Cards. You can't count a team out that's tied for the lead."

The Lip then told of some of the stuff which will win out for the Bums.

"Look at that Stanky up there," he said. "He's always jockeying with the pitcher to get on base. He'll fight anything and anybody. I like a player with plenty of guts. That young Ramazzotti. He's got guts, see. He'll look bad missing a swing but he never gives up. Give me those kind any day."

Coyotes Become Menace In State

Harrisburg, July 22 (AP)—A new type of game for the Keystone state—coyotes—being sought by hunters in northeastern Pennsylvania today.

H. E. Higbee, of Grove City, senior investigator for the Dog Law Enforcement division of the Bureau of Animal Industry, reported recently. Catches have included one female coyote shot, one seriously wounded and two trapped.

Thirty-six lambs recently were killed by coyotes in Bradford county and another farmer in Wyoming county reported a loss of 27 sheep.

Coyotes are not common in Pennsylvania. One explanation for their appearance was that motorists touring in the west acquired several baby coyotes as pets and later abandoned them in the Keystone state.

LANCASTER MAN WINS

Johnstown, Pa., July 22 (AP)—Harry Haverstock, Jr., of Lancaster, won the seventh annual Sunnehanna invitational amateur golf championship yesterday with an overwhelming 10 and 9 decision over Dr. Joseph McHugh, of Johnstown.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Birth of July Celebration at Captain McKnight's: A meeting was held at the house of Captain Thomas McKnight, in Franklin township, on the Fourth of July, 1846 by a respectable number of citizens, without distinction of parties.—George Walter, Sr., was appointed president; George McHenry, Marshal of the Day; Captain Thomas McKnight, Orator of the Day; and Philip Hahn and John R. Mullet, committee of arrangements.

Died: On Tuesday, that venerable son of the Revolution, Capt. David Wilson, of Hamiltonian township, in the 95th year of his age. He served as a Captain in the War of the Revolution.

The name of the Post Office at a desitvile, in this county has been changed to that of Conowago.

From all sections of the country we learn that the crops have produced an abundant yield to the farmer.

A coroner's inquest was held on Monday upon the body of a male infant, found dead upon the premises of Mr. Day, in Huntington township. Their verdict was that its death was caused by strangulation, and that their belief was that its mother, Margaret Rodgers, was the murderer. Process was issued against her; but she has been so ill that her removal to prison has not yet taken place.

The concentration of troops, regiments and volunteers, on our Southwestern frontier, for the persecution of the campaign against Mexico, is going on steadily. By the time that systematic demonstrations of hostility are begun, a very large force will have taken the field.

It is estimated, from satisfactory data, that 200,000 persons will emigrate from Europe to the United States, during the year.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Festival: On Saturday an Ice Cream festival was held in Fairfield, for the benefit of the Brass Band of that place. The receipts amounted to about $190.

Death of Rev. Dr. Jacobs: We leave the melancholy duty of announcing the death of Rev. Michael Jacobs, D.D., which took place at his residence in this place on Saturday, aged 63 years, 6 months and 4 days.

Dr. Jacobs was called to Gettysburg in 1829, as a Teacher in the Gettysburg Gymnasium, a classical school which had been established a year or two before, under the direction of Rev. Dr. Schmucker, then sole professor in the Theological Seminary. The Gymnasium had its origin in the wants of the Seminary; Rev. David Jacobs was appointed the first Teacher in the classical school; but he died after laboring a little over a year, and his brother, Rev. Michael Jacobs, who had a few months before graduated at Jefferson College, was called to succeed him on the 18th of April, 1829. Rev. Harry L. Baugher, (subsequently President of Pa. College,) was his colleague in the Gymnasium—Dr. Baugher having charge of the Classical and Dr. Jacobs the English department. The Gymnasium prospered, and in the course of a few years was incorporated as a collegiate institution under the title of Pennsylvania College.

Dr. Jacobs continued in active service from April, 1829, to June, 1836—when by reason of failing health he retired from active service. The Board unanimously voted him the compliment of Professor Emeritus, with an annual salary of $1,000, which was continued until his death.

He was the last of four members of the College Faculty, who for long years labored together and to whose efforts Pennsylvania College is largely indebted for the high rank it attained among the higher educational institutions of the country. Within a period of four years he had been called home by Dr. Krauth, 1837.

Today's Talk

BACK AT WESKAWEWAHK

There are certain repeat experiences that we delight in looking forward to—especially because the same experience never quite duplicates itself. Weskawewahk—my lovely small island summer home in Nova Scotia—is like that. This is the sixteenth summer I have spent here, yet each one is different.

There is always something new to do. This year I had built some added porches, in the rustic style, so as to blend with the natural surroundings. I got my tools together and started mending and repairing things hardy before I had unpacked my luggage. It's cool here—nights usually touch 50 degrees, but the days are warm—almost a perfect summer climate. Cool, rich air at night, with the smell of the pines, and the smell of the forest all day long.

My pet red squirrels were so wild to see me back that they jumped all over me. I brought a big bag of peanuts for them, which they seemed to scent, and I had to leave my place on the veranda because it was too many peanuts and no reading, and a continuous begging for more and more. Greedy little creatures!

The glorious pines never looked so fresh and green, and a kind neighbor had already set out my favorite bed of pansies, which smiled at me from a variety of colored faces. I walked for miles, it seemed, over the springy, mossy paths about the island, and seemed to tire not at all, as one is so apt to on busy, noisy city streets. Each day here is medicine to my soul. Here are quiet, peace and beauty.

My little library of especial books are here, my faithful typewriter, and all about me—day and night, God's almost silent, mellow music—for there are sounds in nature that beggar description—the wind, the sway of the pines, the call of birds, and the rustling of the hard wood.

Here, too, are clouds and sunsets that carry memories to the open fire in the Lodge—remembered love, friendly talk, and sadness because of vanished hands and hearts. But joy always springs to life anew with the budding morn.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Dark Curtain"

Just Folks

RESTING

"Go up and rest!" they said to me. Obedient to them I'll be.

If that's my doctor's fondest wish, I'll rest while others clean the fish.

The medie tapped me on the chest and said: "Old man, you need a rest!"

So heedful of his wise advice I'll snooze while others go for ice.

Wood for the fireplace from the yard!

From such a task as that I'm barred.

My will to labor I must curb.

I'm resting now: Do not disturb!

"Who'll cut the grass?" and I reply, Yawning, mouth-wide. "Oho not I! The doctor said it would be best For me to come up here to rest."

The funeral services took place in the College church on Tuesday morning, July 25. The pulpit, which Dr. Jacobs had for many years occupied in common with the professors of the College and Seminary, was heavily draped in mourning.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Hay, Pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Lochnan, of York, and Rev. Dr. Schaeffer of Germantown. All that was mortal of Dr. Jacobs now reposes in Ever Green Cemetery.

Finished: The Iron Bridge across Willoughby's Run, and the Wooden Bridge across Rock Creek at Hornet's mill, have both been completed, and are pronounced good jobs. The foundations for the latter are two feet higher than the old ones were.

MARRIED: Metz-Mickley.—On the 16th inst., at the residence of William Metz, in Franklin township, by A. C. Musselman, Esq., Mr. Jesse Metz to Miss Mary C. Mickley both of Adams county.

Stouffer-Wagner.—On the 16th inst., by Rev. E. J. Honeycutt, Mr. Samuel G. Stouffer, of Tyrone town, to Miss Elizabeth L. Wagner, of Reading town.

But what about the widely publicized use of DDT as a cure-all for house flies?

This new insecticide, when applied to porch ceilings, screens, doors and other surfaces where flies commonly congregate is an excellent way to reduce flies. It should be applied in a five-per-cent strength, one application remaining effective for several weeks at least. It should be applied with care to avoid breathing the fumes or permitting them to come in contact with exposed areas of the skin. The idea is this: Flies are killed when they walk on surfaces coated with DDT residue. Safety suggests that DDT be applied with extreme care where foods are kept or on surfaces where foods are likely to be placed in the future.

MAN WANTED HERE NABBED

BACK AT WESKAWEWAHK

Pleading guilty to a charge of removing a cow and a calf from a Path Valley sale without paying for them, Clark E. Moul, farmer, of near Blairs Station, York county, was sentenced by Judge Edmund C. Wingerd in Franklin county court Saturday to serve three to six months in the county jail, dating from May 9, and to make restitution in the amount of $147.50 to Harry C. Garner, of Path Valley. He also directed to pay the costs of prosecution. Moul is alleged to have performed the same action in Adams county.

Things Of The Soil

Brief Facts About House Flies

Like most other common insects, the house fly passes through four stages of development—egg, grub (larva), pupa and fly. If these stages of its life cycles are better understood, the dangerous house fly may be more effectively controlled.

Judge Wingerd indicated, in passing sentence, that if Moul makes restitution to Garner by the time he completes the minimum term of his sentence he would be eligible for parole.

The funeral services took place in the College church on Tuesday morning, July 25. The pulpit, which Dr. Jacobs had for many years occupied in common with the professors of the College and Seminary, was heavily draped in mourning.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Hay, Pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Lochnan, of York, and Rev. Dr. Schaeffer of Germantown. All that was mortal of Dr. Jacobs now reposes in Ever Green Cemetery.

RESTORATION OF CIVIL LIBERTIES BEING PROMISED FOR BOLIVIANS

Pearl Harbor Probers Say Kimmel' And Short Erred; 2 Members Blame FDR, Others

By JACK BELL

La Paz, Bolivia, July 22 (P)—Revolutionary leaders promised immediate restoration of civil liberties today after seizing the government in a bloody four-day uprising climaxed by the assassination yesterday of President Gualberto Villarroel.

Street fighting, in which approximately 2,000 persons were reported killed or wounded, abated after the revolutionists paraded through La Paz with the battered, semi-nude body of the president draped over an army tank.

Earlier, the president's body had been hanged from a lampost in front of his palace. At the conclusion of the parade, the body was returned to the same lampost and strung up again along with the bodies of three of his trusted subalterns.

Matter of Course

Crowds passed silently by the improvised gallows in the shadow of the bullet-pocked palace, where the new government met to name temporary officials and to set in motion machinery for what is described as a democratic general election.

Electric and telephone service, disrupted for the last several days, was restored as the city began to return to normal.

Many members of Villarroel's military regime perished with their leaders, but most of the casualties in the street fighting were revolutionaries.

The situation was still confused today as the leaders of the revolt attempted to restore order after one of the most chaotic days in the history of this country, where revolutions are taken almost as a matter of course.

Prisoners To Be Freed

Some members of the army and a few of Villarroel's lieutenants managed to escape the angry civilian mob and flee to the hills. It was not immediately determined whether they planned a countermove on the capital.

The new government is composed of university professors and students, labor union groups and several prominent persons.

First official act of the revolutionary regime, which calls itself the "institutional government," was to issue a communiqué calling for national unity and restoration of "popular liberties," which were suspended under Villarroel's "strong man" rule.

Hurled from Balcony

The communiqué also said that all political prisoners would be freed and that all political exiles would be welcomed back in Bolivia to "collaborate in the restoration of democratic liberties and guarantees."

Reports differed as to the manner in which Villarroel met his death. One source said that when crowds surged into the presidential palace, slaying guards and soldiers who attempted to turn them back, they found Villarroel hiding in the attack. Another report said the president was wounded when he tried to escape through the palace corridors.

At any event, the president was captured within the palace and then—either dead or alive—was hurled from a balcony to a mob in the street below.

Civilians, forming military ranks, marched through the city shouting their support of the revolution. Trucks loaded with women picked up the dead and wounded. Every hospital and dispensary was filled to overflowing.

STATE SWEEP BY SEVERE STORMS

(By The Associated Press) Thunderstorms of the week-end broke a week-long heat wave in Pennsylvania but left death and widespread property damage in their wake. At least two persons met death as a result of the storms.

At Huntingdon, lightning struck a radio aerial, killing eleven-months-old Donna Arlene Hetrick on the porch of her home. Thelma Hetrick, 13, who was holding her baby sister, was stunned but not seriously injured.

Near New Castle, Francis Hartman, 27, was electrocuted by a high tension wire, which had been loosened by the storm. He was at work on a farm in Plain Grove township, Lawrence county, at the time.

In Harrisburg, a series of electrical and thunderstorms dropped the temperature to a comfortable 70 degrees from Saturday's torrid 95. The weather bureau predicted a low of 68 degrees for the day.

Hail accompanied the storm in Connellsville. Trees were uprooted and flagstone walks washed out.

The storms caused considerable damage to property in the Harrisburg area but the 155 inches of rainfall helped crops and Victory gardens. Some highways were flooded.

There was 1.7 inches of rain in the Pittsburgh district.

At Camp Hill, Harrisburg suburb, two homes were damaged by falling trees.

The first assault on North Africa required 110 tons of maps.

A total of 3,854 are buried in the cemetery at the present time.

Official Regulations

When the cemetery came under the War Department the restrictions regarding the burial of officers in some separate place other than that allocated to enlisted men came into being. The Department of the Interior has carried out the War Department directives since it took over the cemetery in 1933, Doctor Coleman added.

The War Department directives, which control the burial of men and officers here, also specify the size of tombstones, Doctor Coleman added.

The directive states that if a family wishes to erect its own tombstone a major general or above may have a stone seven feet long, four and one-half feet wide and five feet high. If the soldier was a major through brigadier general he may have a tombstone seven feet long, by four feet wide and four and one-half feet high. For captains and lieutenants they may be seven feet long, three and one-half feet wide, and four feet high.

Uniform Stones

Tombstones for enlisted men must conform in size to the regulation stone provided by the War Department.

Stones provided by the War Department for officers and enlisted men are uniform in size.

All available grave sites are reported monthly to the War Department by the local office.

9 DROWNINGS OVER WEEK-END

(By The Associated Press)

Nine Pennsylvanians drowned Sunday as they sought relief in lakes and streams from the heat. State police grappled in the Delaware river today near Riverton, N. J., for Clinton S. DeLong, 18, of Philadelphia, who disappeared near the spot where his sister sacrificed her life ten years ago to save him from drowning.

Robert Siegel, 15, of Philadelphia, drowned in Mirror lake, Brownsville, N. Y. New York state police said the youth fell from a boat while trying to get into a rubber inner tube.

Fifty-eight-year-old Stankey Lapacki of Ashley suffered a fatal heart attack while wading in Penns Lake. He collapsed in the water.

John Moyer, 15, of Danville drowned in Big Roaring creek while swimming with three companions.

Charlotte Coulter, 11, and Patrick Reilly, seven, both Philadelphians, drowned in the Delaware river. The girl sighted the boy struggling in the water about 100 yards offshore and attempted to rescue him.

SWEDES ON TOUR

Washington, Pa., July 22 (P)—Thirty-two students of the Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden, were guests last night at the Washington county farm of Ragnar Berg, chief engineer of the Koppers Co. The students are touring industrial plants in the Pittsburgh area.

Speaking of Prices...

WITH prices so much in the news these days, here's an interesting story. It's the petroleum industry's record of gasoline price and quality since 1920. It's a story of quality going UP; prices coming DOWN.

30¢ a gallon then; a little over 20¢ now. Even with greatly increased taxes included, you pay one-third less today than in 1920, after World War I. Excluding taxes, you pay only one-half as much today.

Meanwhile, gasoline quality has advanced by leaps and bounds. In fact, during the 10 years before the war, the octane number improvement in gasoline has permitted an increase of over 25% in the compression ratio of engines in American cars. This has improved gasoline mileage by at least 11%.

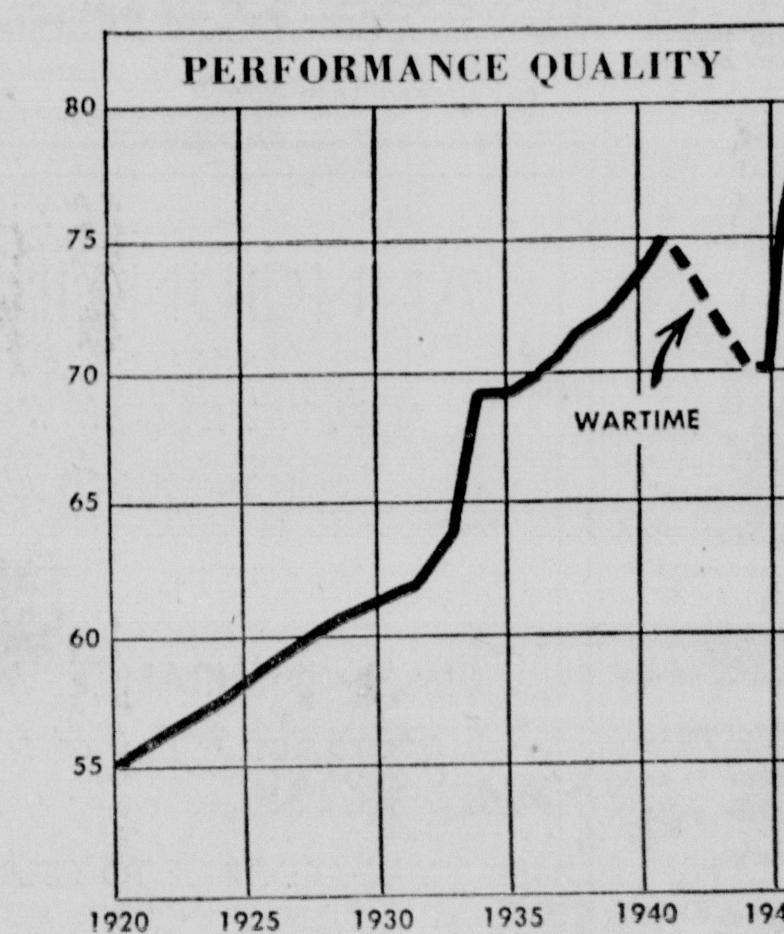

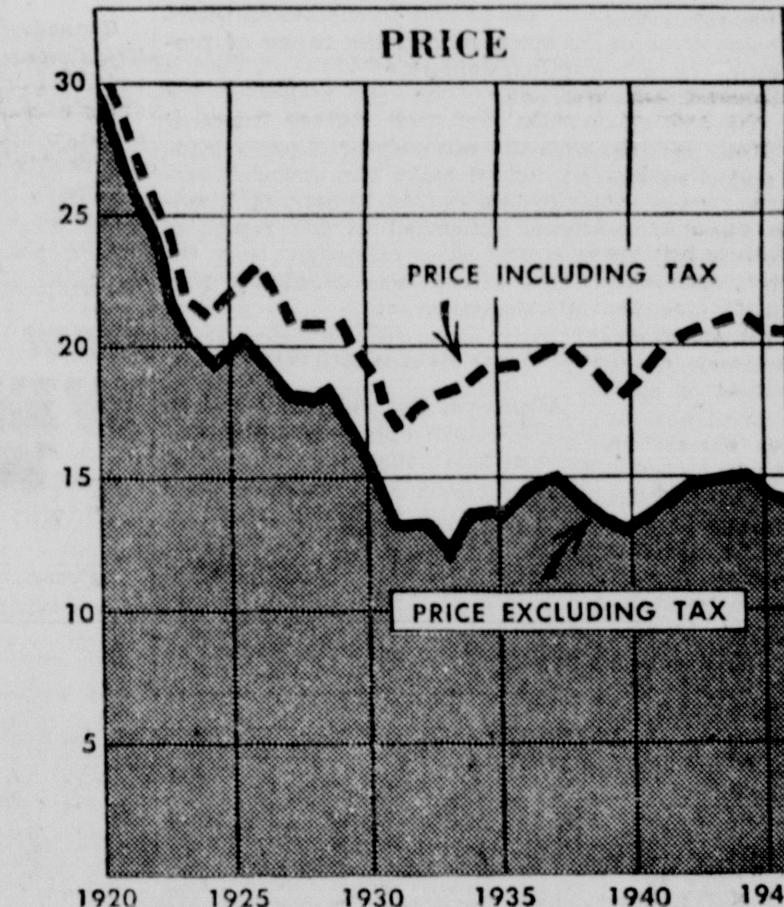

Service, too, has increased greatly—with the industry's 400,000 expert roadside service stations to meet your needs as you drive today.

Naturally, we're proud of our part in this job—and glad to publish this record which shows so well how American business succeeds at its job of producing better and better living at lower and lower costs for the people of this country.

SURVEY SHOWS LACK OF UNITY COST JAPS WAR

Washington, June 22 (AP)—President Truman's proposal to unify the armed forces under a single cabinet officer received a belated boost today from the civilian-directed United States strategic bombing survey. It was based on a detailed study of the conduct of the war in the Pacific.

Japan's lack of coordination at top levels contributed substantially to her disastrous decision to embark on a career of conquest and to ultimate defeat, the survey group found.

Its findings and recommendations were contained in a bulky report released without comment by the White House after the administration dropped its fight for action on the merger at this session of Congress. Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the Senate Military committee, said however he will introduce a new unification measure at the next session.

The survey commission reported that "bureaucratic rivalry" between Japan's army and navy impeded war planning, proper employment of air power, development of adequate logistics and efficient use of her economic resources.

Hid Real Facts

The existence of such joint agencies as the supreme war council "served mainly to hide the fact that real unity, integration, and coordination were conspicuously lacking," the survey said.

In any reorganization of American defenses, however, the survey recommended that the air forces be broadened into a co-equal service with added responsibilities for rocket and other defense.

It proposed that this service "should be given primary responsibility for passive and active defense against long range attack on our cities, industries and other substantial resources; for strategic attack by airplane or guided missile; and for all air units other than carrier and such land-based air units as can be more effective as component parts of the army or navy."

Some passive defense measures currently are being shaped by the army and navy munitions board. All three services are working on guided missiles, and the army air forces and the navy are competing for control of some phases of land-based air power.

The survey commission, headed by Frank D'Olier, former national commander of the American Legion, made other major recommendations:

Says Must Keep Ahead

1. Research and development. "If the United States is not to be forced to hasty and inadequate mobilization every time the threat of aggression arises in the world, it is essential that in the field of military weapons and tactics she be technically not merely abreast of, but actually ahead of any potential aggressor." Expenditures for research and development in the order of one billion dollars annually may be required."

2. Intelligence. "Greater centralization to be provided by the National intelligence authority." The present lack of recognized responsibility for intelligence work by the various operating organizations and the present shortage of trained and competent intelligence personnel

Bridgeton Rider Sets New Record

Williams Grove, Pa., July 22 (AP)—Jim Chann, of Bridgeton, N. J., today held a new motorcycle racing record by virtue of finishing 10 laps—five miles—in 5:24.24, 5:100ths of a second faster than the previous mark set in 1940 by Dick Peters, of Brooklyn.

The 10-lap event was one of two run off here yesterday before rain called a halt to the action. The remainder of the program was postponed until Sunday, August 11.

10-Cent Sandwich Is Thing Of Past

Pittsburgh, July 22 (AP)—The 10-cent sandwich is virtually a thing of the past, says W. H. Schutte, president of the Western Pennsylvania Restaurant association. He said cheese, for instance, now costs the cafe owner more than he once charged for the sandwich.

Schutte said his group was trying to get cafes to hold the line, but added that increasing costs of meat, cheese, butter, and other foodstuffs are going to make high prices imperative in some places.

give cause for alarm and require correction."

3. Armed strength as a force for peace. "The best way to win war is to prevent it from occurring," but "prevention of war will not be furthered by neglect of strength."

x x x As one of the great powers we must be prepared to act in defense of law and to do our share in assuring that other nations live up to their covenant."

Court Jurisdiction

This would involve acknowledging the court's jurisdiction in such matters as the interpretation of treaties and the reparations to be demanded from treaty violators.

The development of the atomic bomb and other new weapons and the "unique" nature of the Pacific war prompted the survey commission to caution in applying the war's lessons to the future, but it ventured this advice:

Shelters Recommended

1. Control of the air is of even greater significance since the arrival of the atom bomb and "the most intense effort must be devoted to perfecting defensive air control both by day and night."

2. Our vulnerability to blitzkreig attack by rockets and other weapons must be materially reduced by peacetime preparation of a system of shelters, air raid warnings, plans for evacuation of cities, stockpiling critical materials and dispersing key industries.

3. In a future war, heavy bombers will not be able to operate effectively much beyond the range of protecting fighters.

In its 20,000-word review of the Pacific war, the survey reported that the mistakes of Japan's leaders helped make her downfall certain, just as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower concluded in his report of the European campaign that the allied victory was aided by Nazi miscalculations.

TO BUILD AIRPORT

Allentown, Pa., July 22 (AP)—The city will take over for $1 the 325-acre airfield which the government built for the Consolidated-Vultee plant here at a cost of $1,500,000 during the war. The government offered to turn over the field to the city after it was declared surplus. City council accepted after an inspection of the property yesterday.

MAY POSTPONE WORLD COURT ACTION A YEAR

Washington, July 22 (AP)—As a result of a series of surprise amendments proposed by John Foster Dulles the Senate may defer until next year any action on American adherence to the new world court.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said Dulles had suggested in a letter to the Foreign Relations Committee several highly technical amendments which Vandenberg said went to the core of "important questions."

Dulles, who was foreign affairs adviser to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the Presidential campaign, has served as an adviser at Big Four foreign ministers conferences and was named by President Truman as an alternate American delegate to the September 25 meeting of the United Nations assembly in New York.

Previously Undersecretary of State Dean A. Acheson had testified before the foreign relations group that "the President and the Secretary of State have carefully weighed the proposal x x x and have recommended that the United States should deposit its declaration and accept the jurisdiction of the court."

Court Jurisdiction

This would involve acknowledging the court's jurisdiction in such matters as the interpretation of treaties and the reparations to be demanded from treaty violators.

As an example of the importance of the changes Dulles proposed, Vandenberg said one involves the possibility that the United States sometime might be arrayed before the court on an issue in which there were several other nations on the other side.

If all of these nations had said in advance that they as well as the United States, were willing to accept the court's decision there would be no question of the tribunal's authority. But the Michigan senator said Dulles pointed out that one or more of the nations of the opposing side might refuse to submit to the court's verdicts. He said Dulles proposed a technical amendment to meet such a situation.

ARTHUR GREISER IS PUT TO DEATH

Poznan, Poland, July 22 (AP)—Arthur Greiser, who sent thousands of Poles to Nazi death camps in the days of his ascendancy as Gauleiter of Poznan province, went to the gallows in prayerful terror yesterday while 15,000 persons, many of whom he had persecuted, watched silently in Citadel Place.

Although his neck was broken, Greiser's body continued to writhe for several minutes before physicians pronounced him dead.

The 49-year-old Greiser, who, as president of the pre-war Gdansk (Danzig) Senate, collaborated in the Nazi invasion of Poland, was the first person to be executed in Poland on the basic charge of waging aggressive war against the country.

HOLD ALL-DAY RITES SUNDAY

Members of the Conewago Congregation, Church of the Brethren, attended and participated in a special all-day service on Sunday at the East Berlin Meeting House. No services were conducted that day in the other meeting houses of that congregation, the elder of which is the Rev. J. Monroe Danner.

The general theme of the service was "The Value of Purity in the Christian Life." Sessions were at 9:30 a. m., 2 and 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Ezra T. Flke, Egion, W. Va., preached at the morning session on "The Battle Ground of Free Will." At the 2 o'clock session he delivered a "chalk talk" on Biblical personages.

The Rev. S. Clyde Weaver, East Petersburg, delivered the morning's Sunday school lesson and preached at the afternoon and evening worship periods. There was a hymn sing at the evening service by the entire congregation, during which appropriate pictures were shown.

Members of the congregation who had special part in the devotional program were Vernon Nell, Harry Mummet, Frank Maserme, Miss Bertha Hull, John Bechtel, Mrs. Eliza Krape, and Rodger N. Witter, as well as the children of the Sunday school who presented a program during the afternoon.
